ANNETTE FELICES & MARC CLAYTON

OCTOBER 20, 2007

WEDDING: Middletown United Methodist Church, Middletown, Md.

RECEPTION: Musket Ridge Golf Club, Myersville, Md.

Desiring more than the traditional two-color wedding palette, Annette and Marc drew on the rich reds, golds and purples of autumn — and the season's wonderful weather — to create a day that was romantic and elegant, but also laid-back and fun.

- 1 Annette and Marc planned their reception to span two hours before and two hours after sunset, so they and their guests could savor the glowing view of the Middletown Valley.
- 2 Flower girl Maya Tzan takes a turn on the dance floor with her mother — Marc's sister, Mandy Tzan — in a dress accented with lace and pearl beads from David's Bridal and a floral headpiece made by Marc's aunt.
- 3 A stretch Ford Excursion from A Touch of Class Limousines decorated with balloons inside whisked the bride and groom off to their reception.
- 4 Annette and Marc toasted with champagne flutes engraved with their married names from Things Remembered.

- 5 The couple chose Musket Ridge because of its prime position for taking in the sweeping views of the fall foliage in the surrounding valley.
- 6 Wedding Cakes by Michael in Alexandria, Va., created this four-tier Tiramisu cake with a top tier of French vanilla cake and tropical fruit especially for the couple. Middletown Valley Florist provided the fresh flower topper to mirror the bouquets.
- 7 With such a range of heights among her attendants, Annette allowed her bridesmaids to choose the style of dress that suited them best. The satin, floor-length gowns in apple red matched perfectly with the groomsmen's attire and came from David's Bridal.
- 8 Middletown Valley Florist created Annette's vibrant bouquet of red roses, orange lilies, freesia, seeded eucalyptus, purple lisanthium and red hypericum berries, as well as Marc's boutonniere of a red rose with seeded eucalyptus.
- 9 Marc and his groomsmen wore dapper tuxedos and apple red vests and ties with a subtle herringbone texture from After Hours Formalwear.
- 10 Middletown Valley Florist also supplied the bountiful harvest centerpieces of mini pumpkins, gourds, fall flowers and fresh apples and grapes. The central candle's wrought iron holder echoed the rustic chandeliers in the reception hall. ❤️
